Calf feeds

Focused on calf nutrition

Getting calves off to the best possible start is crucial, whether you are rearing dairy replacements or calves for beef production.

Calves have tremendous potential for growth in the first 12 weeks of life and research shows that achieving high growth rates at this time brings lifetime benefits in terms of milk production and lifespan.

Feeding high quality milk replacers and concentrates formulated to provide the nutrients required in a highly digestible and palatable form will help ensure calves grow quickly, with good rumen development and minimal digestive upsets.

We supply carefully selected products which can help deliver high growth rates from all calf rearing systems and ensure your calves get off to the best possible start.

All our feeds are backed by our FAR trained team and a range of technical support services.
